

INTRICACY OF DISTRESSED LABOR-FRAGMENT

WORLD BANK FORECAST

Those creditors dealt so rigorously with me, that by their uncharitable severity they'd shake me loose of MY progenitor's inheritance, should I be unfortunate enough to regenerate, and denude me finally of what I was born into And all by virtue of a dormant Bondsman, lying in wait in the greasie cobweb of a musty chest, truly his own master, lulled all this while into a lethargy so complete he would wake not even in the eleventh hour of the Apocalypse, springs up at the destruction of one or another hair of his paper-fettered sycophants. Proving a bad creditor even to those to whom he hath credited his goods, he moons over my lifeblood like WORLD BANK, never abandoning IT till his covetousness, making that the most fertile and febrile thing of anything which of itself is most unfruitful, has, in the unconscionable multiplying of such a graceless generation, reared up THIS ITS unhallowed result from a spark, as it were, in a corner of THEIR houses to the height of a most prodigious flame, to consume them, their wives, their whole estates and fortunes forever all to deny me my pay. To the most frugal it might seem a task very difficult, the labor-fragment having been apprised itinerant, compromised, other-worldly to make the payment of MY FATHER'S debt to COINCIDE with the preservation of my forefathers' estate, when, by the malignant influences of credited sums, the land rents shrinking, they make US illegal and offer us up bodily to Sovereigns and Creditors together their subdalous and crafty tergiversation make it too evidently apparent that, even now, prosecuting at their ease, they aim at OUR utter destruction, both their res'olutions concentrating in this, that by a little foreclosure, they would suffer their unhallowed sums to increase for the better obtaining afterwards °f OUR whole estate. Those meddling with MY rents in a tumultuous time, to bring me the sooner in a capacity of enjoying nothing, through diminution of MY father's debts—this pit they dig for me, that they should fall into it themselves
